Dear Hams/SWLs,

Greetings from NIAR!

It gives us great pleasure to invite you to HAMTECH 2015, International Conference on Amateur Radio Communications at Port Blair, Andaman & Nicobar, India during 6 to 7 March 2015 followed by a Dxpedition till 18 March, 2015 being organised by NIAR.

The National Institute of Amateur Radio (NIAR) with its objectives to promote Amateur Radio, has reached a milestone of completion of 31 years with a reputation of being a world class institution for its activities and achievements.

We wish to showcase the importance of Amateur Radio communications at the event. The discussions at this convention will address various topical issues like promotion of Amateur Radio, HF & VHF communications, Digital communications, Dxpeditions and developments in Antennas & Propagation. There is also an open forum to discuss on Disaster Management particularly the experiences lessons learnt in recent natural calamities shared by experts.

The speakers are well known experts in the field with years of experience, senior officers of Government of India and Non Government Organisations in the field of Amateur Radio communication technologies and represent International and local organisations. Participation of electronic, print media will also be encouraged.

Indian and foreign ham delegates are permitted to operate their ham stations during HAMTECH 2015 by obtaining special permission from WPC Wing of Ministry of Communications & Information Technology, Govt. of India.

We would therefore invite you to attend this event. If you are aware of any colleagues, friends or other persons who may have interest in attending HAMTECH 2015, we would request you to pass on this information.

I look forward to seeing you at HAMTECH-2015!

Thanking you.

Yours sincerely,

S.Ram Mohan, VU2MYH
