Dear Sir,

The National Institute of Amateur Radio, Hyderabad is pleased to invite you to HAMTECH-2015, an International Conference on Amateur Radio communications. The conference will be held during 6-7 March, 2015 at Port Blair, Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

NIAR works to support advancement of global Amateur Radio activity in terms of promotion, training, government advocacy, technical support, knowledge repository and research, exceed the expectations with commitment, quality and excellent service. The necessary Infrastructure and other essential facilities are created to achieve the above objectives with commitment to deliver services to Hams, communities, policy makers, organizations to accomplish integrated information systems and provide excellent second line of communication through amateur radio.

HAMTECH-2015 emphasizes information sharing, demonstration and display of amateur radio wireless communication equipment and accessories. In a relaxed yet professional setting, representatives from government agencies, businesses, and universities will meet, interact, and discuss the current and future states of amateur radio communication technologies.

HAMTECH-2015 provides you with several excellent opportunities to showcase your organization's products and services. To give you maximum exposure to conference attendees, we offer events such as the Exhibitors' Showcase as well as the opportunity to be a Sponsoring Exhibitor. This is a unique event in India which attracts attention of 3 million hams all over the world besides their families.

We invite sponsorship from your esteemed organization for this event. This association would be mutually beneficial to both the parties and your organization would get the following positives, Your Company gets associated with amateur radio organizations especially with Brand Reminiscence. This would give your organization a lot of positive publicity amongst amateur radio operators world-wide. Encourage you to apply early as our souvenir is sought after by amateur radio associations all over the world.
